

Digital Art Paintings and Galleries

Using Adobe Illustrator, students recreated a painting, print, or drawing selected from art historical sources. Students were challenged to use their existing skills as well as experiment with unfamiliar tools in order to create the most naturalistic interpretation of the original work. Using their created work, as well as images found online, they built a themed art gallery using principles of one-point perspective.

